

Publications Committee Report – January 2012

Following its usual pattern, the Publications Committee produced two Mighty Messengers and one Herald last year. All of the publications were larger than usual as Fellowship activities have greatly increased in recent years.

Plans for this year are to produce the same number of publications. However, since our committee budget is lower for 2012, we will attempt to bring the same quality of news and articles to readers as economically as we can. Some articles are already in for the Herald, and we hope to get it to readers earlier than last year. As for the Mighty Messenger, we are always dependent on any news that can be sent to us.

Please make it a habit to send news of the activities of your society/study group so that we can plan the next issue of the Mighty Messenger. With so many events in motion within the Urantia community, there must be a number of possible articles or announcements that readers could enjoy. Pictures are a great help also. Many readers have told us how much they enjoy seeing the photos we include in our issues.
