

Phoned Julia Fenderson Wednesday evening, 12/1/71, and told her about this order. She will endeavor to check it out to see if there is actually a store there. Said she would ride out to see - and check in phone book to see if it is listed as a store. She will report to us promptly.

No letterhead - paid by personal check of Robert W. Johnson, at same address.

We have had no previous dealings with him. How did he know the price of a carton of books? The postage he used was the old rate $2.70, which was the figure the last time we sent a carton to Doris George.
