Dear Sirs,

I thank you for your letter of November 13, and regret having not known your existence in 1954 when I spent several days in Chicago as a guest of your Government about an economic mission. It would have been a pleasure to make direct contact.

As things are, please send me two copies of the URANTIA BOOK. I enclose a cheque of $ 20 as you ask.

As to the Index, which will have a great value for the earnest readers, and still more for the voluntary teachers of these momentous lessons, please let me know when it is ready. I feel that you plan to compose it ~~with~~ with the same extraordinary care as the book itself. It is therefore obvious that you need much time. I wait eagerly upon the result.

In the meantime, I want to check the reaction of other readers than myself. What is your feeling about a translation in French or in other languages? Having myself made some translation in French, I know that it would require several years of work by a group of three to five translators, and tens of thousands of dollars. But when the wind of the spirit blows, you never know what will happen.

Sincerely yours,

J. Weiss
