The Urantia Book is a wake-up call to our planet from the rest of the inhabited universe, telling us where we are, who we are, and why we are, as individuals and as a collective human family. It is also the story of why up to now we have been largely ignorant of our origins, history, and destiny, and of our place in the vast universe that our small world has always had a beloved place in, no matter how blind we've been to that. We have never been alone, as individuals nor as a world, and now The Urantia Book is given us to reveal our true home—that of our world in space and that of our individual beings in the heart of the eternal Creator. The spirit of God lives within each of us, to guide us through the universe after this life to his presence at the Source and Center of all things. Finally, the book is also a year by year, day by day, even minute by minute account of the life and teachings of Joshua ben Joseph, Jesus of Nazareth, told by eyewitnesses to the events of the noblest and most selfless life ever lived, a story not limited by human vision and understanding that clarifies and illuminates the Biblical account.

You can find The Urantia Book in libraries and bookstores, or you can order it from the Urantia Book Club. There is a network of Urantia Book study groups all over the world and visitors are always welcome.
