FOREWORD

3

Deity may be existential, as in the Eternal Son; experiential, as in the Supreme Being; associative, as in God the Sevenfold; undivided, as in the Paradise Trinity.

poor inking and broken letters.
Note especially the word

Deity is the source of all that which is divine. Deity is characteristically and bly divine, but all that which is divine is not necessarily Deity, though it will tend towards some phase of unity with spiritual, mindal, or personal.

VINITY is the characteristic, ininity is creature comprehensible personality as love, mercy, and ce, power, and sovereignty. ininity may be perfect—complete perfection; it may be imperfect—space evolution; or it may be r ain Havona levels of existential-

When we attempt to conceive of per tivity, we encounter seven conceivable t urce of all that which is but all that which is ed with Deity and w mindal, or personal.

(DETAIL)

1. Absolute perfection in all aspects.
2. Absolute perfection in some phases and relative perfection in all other aspects.
3. Absolute, relative, and imperfect aspects in varied association.
4. Absolute perfection in some respects, imperfection in all others.
5. Absolute perfection in no direction, relative perfection in all other manifestations.
6. Absolute perfection in no phase, relative in some, imperfect in others.
7. Absolute perfection in no attribute, imperfection in all.

II. GOD

Evolving mortal creatures experience an irresistible urge to symbolize their finite concepts of God. Man's consciousness of moral duty and his spiritual idealism represent a value level—an experiential reality—which is difficult of symbolization.

Cosmic consciousness implies the recognition of a First Cause, the one and only uncaused reality. God, the Universal Father, functions on three Deity-personality levels of subinfinite value and relative divinity expression:

1. Prepersonal—as in the ministry of the Father fragments, such as the Thought Adjusters.
2. Personal—as in the evolutionary experience of created and procreated beings

On page three we see the first evidence of several alterations to the original plates. Whoever altered the plates in 1967 elected to remove the word “other” from #5 on page three. This required a new page to be set, etched and cast. Then the original page was removed from the plates and the new one was set in. 48 such alterations were made to the text for the 1967 printing. Merritt Horn's commentaries on this and all 133 word and number changes — and deletions — (that have been found) are available in Appendix D.
